Mission Statement

(C) 2003, rev. 2010

Advocates in Action is Rhode Island's Statewide Self-Advocacy organization. Self-Advocacy is a civil rights movement that's led by people with developmental and intellectual disabilities.

Self-Advocacy means being in charge of your own life, finding out what's important and learning how to speak up about it, being a part of community and making a difference.

Our mission statement is a list of things we believe in. We always try to practice these beliefs in the work we do.
