WHAT is SELF-ADVOCACY?

Self-Advocacy is a national and international movement that is directed by people who have a developmental disability.

Self-Advocacy means being in charge of your own life.
Find out what's important & learn how to speak-up about it,
Be a part of the community & give something back.
We all have something to say and something to share.
Being involved in Self-Advocacy can help you learn to speak-up and take action about the things that matter most.
Together We Can Make a Difference.
